To our valued stakeholders,

Richards Building Supply wishes to express its humbled gratitude to all who continue to give us purpose since the pandemic was declared in March 2020. Starting with the intestinal fortitude our contractors showed before our industry was labeled 'essential.' You made commitments and responsibly navigated challenges to serve our country. Thank You!

EVERY manufacturer would relish the opportunity to Monday morning quarterback decisions made post-pandemic announcements. We have great respect for our vendor partners who listened to distribution, contractors, and other trusted resources to adapt your businesses in search for solve. Thank you for your continued efforts to delivered finished goods as raw material supply, labor shortages, and more are prolonging our return to health.

As the number of new COVID cases remains well below the daily average of concern and CDC continues to loosen prevention protocols, Richards Building Supply celebrates as it moves to conduct business in the new norm. To those who became more efficient with planning and execution due to the pandemic, we will continue to provide the upgraded experiences of call ahead orders, curbside pickup, and more. For additional information on recent procedural changes, connect with operations and follow posted guidance at the branch.

A special thank you to our employees who found new ways to serve, solve and celebrate the business daily. Without you, there is no Richards Building supply.

Sincerely,

Ronald M. Guzior
CEO / President
